

How is Glaucoma Detected ?

Tonometer measures the Pressure within the eye

Normal Intraocular Pressure 14 - 20 mm Hg

To visualize the angle behind the cornea

This is done to detect optic nerve damage

Side vision is examined by computer assisted, perimetry

